SONOMA COUNTY

2015 Rosé of Pinot Noir

Tasting Notes

Light pink in color, with watermelon, cranberry, orange rind, and fresh spring flower aromas on the nose. The palate is loaded with peach, strawberry, and melon flavors, with an intriguing note of fresh basil and pomegranate sneaking through. Though packed with fruit, our Rosé finishes dry, with bright acidity and just a hint of tannin from the small period of contact with the grape skins. Drinking beautifully now, and will continue to develop further in the coming months.

Winemaking

Our 2015 Rosé of Pinot Noir is composed of 100% Pommard Pinot Noir from Sangiacomo Vineyard. We chose a Saignée method to capture the essence of the Pinot Noir and fermented in neutral barrels, allowing the fruit to truly express itself.

Vineyard

The Sangiacomo Family is known for with high-end Pinot Noir in Sonoma County, and many wineries throughout the county, state source their fruit to make exceptional wines. We have always been impressed by the Los Carneros climate just South of town of Sonoma. So we were thrilled when a block became available in 2015 and we were able to add this grower to our portfolio.
